Our pictures show the tables turned on Gerry Gable, the Editor of the anti-Nationalist hate magazine "Searchlight". One of his favourite methods of intimidation has been to print the home addresses of his political opponents in his sordid journal.

He has always been very wary of people knowing his address. Up untill now it has been kept a secret.

Following a two year operation by members of the Security and Intelligence Department we can now reveal that Gable lives at 49 Herent Drive, Clayhall, Ilford, Essex.

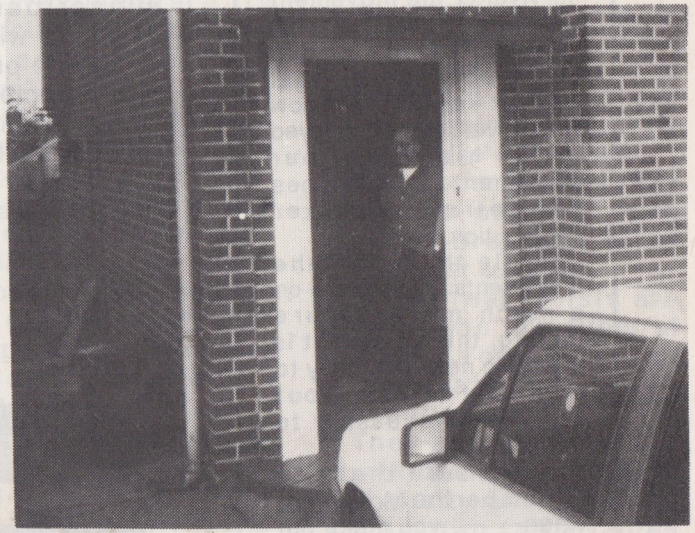
Sonia K.E. Gable shares this address (her maiden name is Hochfelder).

Gerry and Sonia own two cars: a Red Volvo 360 GLT (Registration number C49 EMG) and a White Vauxhall Nova (Registration number C359 EML).

"THEY DRESS LIKE STUDENTS - THEY DRESS LIKE HOUSEWIVES"

The home of Gable was placed under observation for some months prior to the decision to publish. A clear picture has been built-up of his movements and associates.

When two officers called at the home of Gerry Gable and explained politely that they were visiting on the instructions of the Directorate he was visibly shaken. It seemed that this great writer and journalist was for once lost for words!



"Gerry Gable and his ilk must be made to realise that there is nowhere they can hide from us. Loyalty to the National Directorate and a hatred of those who defame our noble Cause motivates all those who work for Security and Intelligence."

for a third way

By disbanding the NF and supporting the formation of a new Movement aren't you admitting failure?

Yes. Due to past mistakes and media distortions the name "National Front" has come to represent a powerful symbol. Unfortunately, to most people this symbol is not seen as positive but as representing an ethos or mode of behaviour of an undesirable nature. This in turn leads to all kinds of misfits and inadequates who have little or no connection with us using our name. A political Movement exists to attain certain specified objectives. Judged by this

Have you decided to disband the NF because the name has become associated with yobs/violence?

Yes. But also to a lesser extent "Nazism" and anti-semitism. Whilst much of this association is unfair we must recognise that past leaderships are partly to blame. Politics is about perception and the public have a generally negative perception of the NF. We have changed the perception of the NF to some degree but we do not have an infinite amount of time to save our country. Drastic measures

A new Movement is born

Below we print in question and answer format an eplanation of why the National Directorate of the NF has voted to cease political activity using that name and instead transfer its support to a new Movement which is expected to be launched on March 17, 1990.

For details of this dramatic political development, read on.....

Will the new Movement have different policies to those of the Official National Front?

There is no reason to change our policies. They are fundamentally right. Our policies will, however develop as we progress. There will be more emphasis on those policies at the core of our ideology - Economic and political decentralisation and promotion of the values of family, community and nation.

Do you intend to change your strategy or become para-military?

NEWS IN BRIEF

Dark Ages

As part of their campaign to return Britain to the Dark ages, the Conservatives seem to have finally killed off the U.K.'s revolutionary space-plane called HOTOL.

SHORT-SIGHTED

The government's short-sighted refusal to continue funding for the project means that British Aerospace may now have to shut down work on HOTOL completely. Yet the benefits of the space-plane are obvious: a cheap method of launching satellites and repairing other spacecraft as well as ferrying supplies between space-stations. And all from conventional runways on Earth! If Britain drops out of this field, then our competitors in Europe and Japan will forge ahead at our cost.

or made up of private individuals. This has clearly irritated service policemen who resent this form of alternative policing as a potential challenge.

The NF does not welcome the growth of private policing to serve only those who can afford it. Nonetheless the proliferation of such policing alternatives highlights the continuing failure of the police to get to grips with rising crime. The Establishment would do better to worry less about maintaining their self importance, and more about involving communities in the fight against crime.

NONSENSE

All may not be going to plan for the capitalist culture haters.

According to the Henley Centre For Forecasting the bureaucrat's plans to integrate Europe may not work. Henley says "the notion that in Britain, France, or Germany many will discard their national characteristics for a blanket European identity is nonsense." and " the idealised global village is in reality more of a multi-cultural sprawl." Yes. Due to past mistakes and media distortions the name "National Front" has come to represent a powerful symbol. Unfortunately, to most people this symbol is not seen as positive but as representing an ethos or mode of behaviour of an undesirable nature. This in turn leads to all kinds of misfits and inadequates who have little or no connection with us using our name. A political Movement exists to attain certain specified objectives. Judged by this standard the National Front has failed.

What are the main advantages?

The main advantage of forming a new Movement are that it will be able to communicate our message without the association of mistakes made by past leaderships of the NF.

Have you decided to disband the NF because the name has become associated with yobs/violence?

Yes. But also to a lesser extent "Nazism" and anti-semitism. Whilst much of this association is unfair we must recognise that past leaderships are partly to blame. Politics is about perception and the public have a generally negative perception of the NF. We have changed the perception of the NF to some degree but we do not have an infinite amount of time to save our country. Drastic measures are required.

Have you given into the Flag?

As far as we are concerned the NF has been disbanded. If disorganised and indisciplined elements seek to use that name it is their problem - they are flogging a dead horse. We will not in any way be associated with their loutish behaviour or bigoted rantings.

What will happen regarding NF News and Nationalism Today?

Do you intend to change your strategy or become para-military?

Our present strategy of target grouping and grassroots Community Action will be continued. More emphasis will be placed on cultivating support within other interest groups.

The NF was never para-military and the demise of the "political soldiers" to a camp in France mean we are free from such fantasies.

Will it not take a considerable time to make the public aware of the new Movement and its policies?

The harder we work the quicker it will be.

Autonomy

A basic tenet of our Nationalist philosophy is that political and cultural autonomy is not for sale to the highest bidder. The independence of our nation is beyond price.

Over the years, however, our armed forces have become more and more reliant on foreign states, and in particular the USA, for military equipment. The present Capitalist ethos dictates that if the State can buy military equipment "off the shelf" from other countries without the expense of research and development then this is what they should do.

Green Tories?

The Tory onslaught against green policies is being led by Peter Brooke, party Chair, who claims that green policies in general would reduce the "standard of living for most people in Britain". The Tories have recently issued a pamphlet claiming that green policies would "halt economic growth". What the Tories mean is that they want to help enviromental concerns so long as it keeps well away from upsetting big business. It is in fact "big business" that has caused most of the enviromental problems in the first place. The Tory "concern" for the enviroment can be likened to what the M-25 motorway is to a helpless hedgehog! Thr Tories don't care, never have done, and never will!

advantages?

The main advantage of forming a new Movement are that it will be able to communicate our message without the association of mistakes made by past leaderships of the NF.

FIGHT ON AFTER YOU'VE GONE

One of the greatest regrets our supporters - and especially our oldest supporters - have is that they will not be able to carry on fighting for the Cause for ever!

In 1980 the financial survival of the movement was ensured by the bequest of one of our deceased members. That member was never to know what a vital part she played in the history of our movement but that does not detract from her contribution.

While thankfully the movements finances are on a much more secure footing, the movement is always in need of money to enable it to carry out activities necessary to development.

Make sure that you remember the Movement when you make out your Will. If you have already written your Will add a codicil for the benefit of the movement. If you are unsure about any of the legal technicalities in arranging this, please do not hesitate to contact our Legal Department.

Have you given into the Flag?

What will happen regarding NF News and Nationalism Today?

These journals will be shut-down. This is the last issue of NF News. All subscriptions will be passed over to the new group and subscribers to our old journals will be sent the magazine produced by the new Movement.

Ulster Nation will continue to be published and later a journal for the North of England will be produced.

Action will be continued. More emphasis will be placed on cultivating support within other interest groups.

Will it not take a considerable time to make the public aware of the new Movement and its policies?

The harder we work the quicker it will be.

What will the new Movement be called?

The new Movement is expected to be called "Third Way".

There is a tradition of a third force in British politics which the Liberal Party once sought to capitalise on. We believe our philosophy is a genuine alternative to both Capitalism and Communism.

The above illustration shows the symbol which is expected to be adopted as the logo of the new Third Way Movement.

The Royal Air Force has for some years been buying aircraft from overseas. Examples of this trend are numerous, the Phantom fighter and Hercules transport aircraft are but two.

Our army too shops abroad for vital equipment. The government will shortly decide between the Howitzer (maufactured in the USA) or a new Howitzer being jointly developed with Brazil called the AS90 system to replace old artillery.

Our view is that to buy vital military equipment overseas undermines the independence that such equipment is meant to maintain.

CRIME PAYS

A recent survey carried out by "Police Review" suggests there are at least one thousand examples of the streets being patrolled by people other than the police.

In one area in the West Midlands there were some 250 non-police patrols of which 175 were private security firms created by local authorities and they were employed by local companies

Trees can help us!

A new, very clean, and alternative energy source is available to us, in the Willow Tree (ouch!). No, we don't mean to cut down all these sacred trees, but to plant MORE.

They can provide about 4% of our energy needs by the year 2020. Mr Jonathan Rose of the "Country Landowners Association" has noted that by mass plantation of Willow trees we would help the enviroment, and they can be turned into "biomass" by being dried, and specially prepared to produce gas. It is a wonderfully enviromentally friendly fuel. It also gives off far less sulpher than either fossil fuels like coal or oil. During its cycle from being grown to burning it will make a healthy contrbution of oxygen into the atmosphere, thereby helping avoid the "Greenhouse" effect.

Of course, we can expect little assistence from the Establishment, who are obsessed with nuclear power.

LIES!

The latest edition of National Front News, its newspaper, has a picture of a savaged rainforest on its front page while the back bears the legend: "It's not easy being a dolphin."

Inside the home-produced newspaper, whose green masthead has replaced the red, white and blue of the Union Flag, the caring nationalist is alerted to the plight of "plants in danger", "the ruin of our rivers", and the decline of Britain's population of wild bats, "a great crime against mother nature".

Even the party's official credo now includes "respect for nature" with "racial separation" and "national freedom".

The result is that the traditional patriotic fare of scare stories about Jews, blacks and Muslims takes second place to calls to end the fur trade and letters that end "yours, for the green revolution".

Now the stalwarts of the old, environmentally-unfriendly NF have to look to the classifieds for more familiar wares: ads for White Warriors, the latest Skullhead single, and posters of the Nordic mother and child, captioned "Self-respect, Family Honour and National Pride".

Patrick Harrington, a member of the national directorate of the party, which is thought to number little more than 500, denied that it was turning green with political opportunism: "We have always had people around who are interested in green issues."

He said there was a new kind of NF supporter who cared about the environment and wanted to express his concern. According to Mr Harrington, a

Neither of these assertions are true. The "Correspondent" journalist had the

- to work together with Nationalist forces throughout Europe.

- to reduce the number of foreigners in our country (currently 1/3 of the population).

- to fight against all the drug dealers.

- to establish the death penalty.

- to give to the Luxembourgers the possibility to regain their rights and to participate in political life in a truly democratic way.

THE AMERICAN DREAM

12 million children and 8 million adults are now classified as hungry in the United States. The selfish "American Dream" of unrestricted economic individualism and greed has seen vast numbers of people abandoned to poverty, in the so-called "land of the free".

How much longer before this happens in the United Kingdom? There are already signs that under Mrs. Thatcher it is taking place.

A recent report by the Child Poverty Action Group reveals that the number of those living in poverty rose from 5 million in 1980 to 6.6 million in 1985. What will the figures be for 1990? Certainly the 5.3 million adults claiming Income Support will suffer even more when the Poll Tax is introduced. In the majority of local authority areas they will be worse off by between a few pence and two pounds a week. As if that was not bad enough, the Secretary of State for the Enviroment, Chris Patten, has forecast large increases in council house rents.

WHO ARE YOU MIXING IT WITH ?

Mr. Geoffrey Dear, the Chief Constable of the West Midlands Police Force is a confused man. In his Annual Report published recently he records instaces of violence between Sikh and Moslem youth. The violence flared due to attempts by Moslem boys to date Sikh girls. Attacks took place because Sikhs were intensely keen to prevent their girls from getting mixed up with boys of a different culture and religion.

THE SPICE OF LIFE?

Mr Dear goes on to say:

"They raise passions and emotions that we can hardly begin to understand. It leads to a degree of violence including murder. We can hardly contemplate it. It is a serious matter and it is beginning to flare up again".

SOUTHERN DISCOMFORT

THE SOUTH OF ENGLAND IS OFTEN PRESENTED AS THE MAGICAL WONDERLAND, THAT THE WORKERS IN THE NORTH SHOULD GET ON THEIR BIKES AND HEADFOR. YET THERE ARE PROBLEMS EVEN IN THE SOUTH-EAST THAT THE TORIES ARE NOT TOO KEEN ON AKNOWLEDGING.

One such subject is housing. In the Havant area near Portsmouth in Hampshire, families without a home can wait up to 6 years to find a place to live, often a single room in a hostel. It is hardly surprising that anger and frustration within those deprived of a Home is boiling over into fighting and vandalism. Desperation has gripped a dispossed generation in an area of supposed prosperity.

Not that the people's "representatives" in the region seem bothered about the enviroment either; the General Purposes Committee of West Sussex County Council recently rejected a motion calling for better recycling facilities and increased enviromental protection measures. Meanwhile, in the same county, the residents of Pagham are fighting a London property company that wants to build a marine near them, that could wreck the character of their village and damage an area of Special Scientific Interest: Pagham Harbour Nature Reserve.

FEATURE :

From: The Rt. Hon. Edward Heath, M.B.E., M.P.

[redacted] February 1970

Dear M[redacted],

Mr. Heath has asked me to thank you for writing to him about immigration.

The Conservative Party already has a strong, effective policy for the control of immigration into this country. It was first published in our manifesto for the 1966 General Election, two years before Mr. Powell's speech at Birmingham in April 1968. It has been fully explained by Mr. Heath in successive speeches at Ipswich, Dudley, York, Folkestone and Walsall as well as in newspaper articles and television interviews. That policy can be summarised as follows:

The next Conservative Government will strictly limit the number of immigrants coming into this country. Under our proposals future immigrants who are admitted will not be granted an immediate unconditional right to settle here permanently. They will only be allowed where they are needed for a specific job in a specific place for a specific time. Only wives and young children will have the right to join immigrants who have already settled here.

The next Conservative Government will also make public funds available to assist immigrants who wish to return to their countries of origin.

Those already here will be treated without discrimination as equal before the law.

We recognise that the concentration of immigrants in certain parts of the country has placed a severe strain on housing, education and the health service in those areas. These problems will be tackled in two ways. First, the next Conservative Government will provide funds for co-ordinated local authority projects to deal with immigrant problems. Second, a Conservative Government will have the power to prevent further immigrants from settling in any area where the pressure on social services is thought to be too great.

These are effective well thought-out proposals which will give the Conservatives the strictest possible control over immigration and overcome problems which have arisen in areas where immigrants have settled.

Yours sincerely,

Unfortunately, as the letter reproduced opposite shows - the Tory leadership has consistently lied to the public and as our overviews seeks to illustrate, worked to render such opposition ineffective.

Recent developments with regard to further immigration show that the Tories cannot be trusted to keep their promises concerning Race and immigration.

Tory grassroots

Does Ian Stuart (Donaldson) of the Nazi band Skrewdriverhave any credibility left amongst the alienated youth who keep him in beer money? Recently even they must be starting to wonder if his political views are just another promotional gimmick. To assist with their thoughts we reprint a letter below by Ian which condemns both the NF and the British Movement. Would you by a used melody from this man?

Who, me?

I AM writing to inform you that the biased information which has appeared recently in your paper, and which RAR seem to be responsible for, is false. The news that Skrewdriver were reforming to do NF gigs is complete and utter bullshit. I formed the band and finally split it up over a year ago. I rarely see the other members of the group and have no intention of forming a band with any of them again.

Where RAR get their information beats me. Maybe they have a little KGB-type organisation within their ranks.

To suggest that we have come out in favour of the NF is also a lie. I've never voted NF and have no interest whatsoever in politics, and never had. I've also been told that RAR has solid links with he Anti-Nazi League, an organisation who, it seems, are backed heavily by the communist and Marxist parties, who in their way are just as much of a threat to this country as the NF or BM.

Why don't the two sides go and battle out their political wars in Hyde Park or somewhere, and let the people who just want to have a good time and hear some music do so in peace, without being pestered by people, pushing either communism or fascism?

I'm at present forming a new band which is not called Skrewdriver, and don't intend doing gigs for the RAR, NF or any other political organisations. — IAN STUART, Hawthorne Grove, Carleton, Poulton-Le-Fylde, Lancashire.

Tory grassroots opposition to mass non-European immigration is not new.

In 1962 the late R.A. Butler, Home Secretary at that time, introduced the first Commonwealth Immigration Act for the Conservative Government. Even at that time some members of the Conservative Party opposed mass non-European immigration into Britain.

When the Wilson government came into being in 1964 no major attempt was made to control immigration. By 1966 it began to appear that there was considerable public anxiety concerning the issue. This anxiety mainly manifested itself in grassroots opposition to mass immigration. In 1966 three hundred housewives from Smethwick near Birmingham, chartered a small fleet of coaches and

THE GREAT BETRAYAL

On the 20th of April 1968 the Rt. Hon Enoch Powell spoke to the West Midlands Area Conservative Political Centre. It was a speech that was to become famous - the British people had been awakened to the threat of mass immigration. At Birmingham Powell concluded: "All I know is that to see and not speak would be the great betrayal".

Enoch Powell was disowned by Edward Heath and ejected from the Conservative Shadow Cabinet.

Two days before the speech by Powell, Mr Ronald Bell, M.P., had also spoken in Birmingham. This was at a mass rally on "Race Laws and Freedom".

London beating the Liberal Party in over thirty constituencies. This was the sign for Thatcher to appear to take a more hardline stance on immigration. It was former NF voters who switched their votes who elected Thatcher in the General Election of 1979.

These people should now realise that the Tory reformers will never tackle the race issue. They cannot be trusted. Only constant grassroots pressure organised and led by a fanatical and politically aware elite will end immigration and institute compulsory repatriation.

In 1962 the late R.A. Butler, Home Secretary at that time, introduced the first Commonwealth Immigration Act for the Conservative Government. Even at that time some members of the Conservative Party opposed mass non-European immigration into Britain.

When the Wilson government came into being in 1964 no major attempt was made to control immigration. By 1966 it began to appear that there was considerable public anxiety concerning the issue. This anxiety mainly manifested itself in grassroots opposition to mass immigration. In 1966 three hundred housewives from Smethwick near Birmingham, chartered a small fleet of coaches and set-off to London. On arriving in force at the Home Office they were met by the then Home Secretary R.H.S. Crossman who told them:

"We are not racists, there is nothing I can do".

ENTER THE NATIONAL FRONT

In February, 1967 the National Front was formed. A number of political groupings came together to co-ordinate resistance to mass immigration. These groups included, the League of Empire Loyalists and the Racial Preservation Society. Despite opinion polls showing public opposition and vociferous campaigning by the NF immigration continued.

THE GREAT BETRAYAL

On the 20th of April 1968 the Rt. Hon Enoch Powell spoke to the West Midlands Area Conservative Political Centre. It was a speech that was to become famous - the British people had been awakened to the threat of mass immigration. At Birmingham Powell concluded: "All I know is that to see and not speak would be the great betrayal".

Enoch Powell was disowned by Edward Heath and ejected from the Conservative Shadow Cabinet.

Two days before the speech by Powell, Mr Ronald Bell, M.P., had also spoken in Birmingham. This was at a mass rally on "Race Laws and Freedom".

"Be it said", he declared, "that when one considers the Race Relations Bill and its elder brother the 1965 Race Relations Act, one is simply not dealing at all with a marginal case, but with a gross and vehement encroachment deep into the proper sphere of personal decision, and I am profoundly convinced that if this immediate threat is not sharply challenged and then fought with as great a persistance as has been shown over recent years by those who have worked for this engine of oppression, then many further uses of law and of the power of the state for shaping men's minds will follow".

In 1977 the NF polled around 119,000 votes in London beating the Liberal Party in over thirty constituencies. This was the sign for Thatcher to appear to take a more hardline stance on immigration. It was former NF voters who switched their votes who elected Thatcher in the General Election of 1979.

These people should now realise that the Tory reformers will never tackle the race issue. They cannot be trusted. Only constant grassroots pressure organised and led by a fanatical and politically aware elite will end immigration and institute compulsory repatriation.

"Imigration for settlement is now at its lowest level since control of Commonwealth immigration first began in 1962."

"We will tighten the existing law to ensure that the control over settlement becomes even more effective."

The Next Moves Forward, Conservative Manifesto, 1987.

When Derek Holland and Nick Griffin recently left the NF they denounced everyone else in the traditional manner. Directorate members were described as immoral. The Directorate has therefore composed this simple quiz :

1. Which major financial backer of Derek Holland is a traditionalist Catholic?
2. Why does he spend so much time in Brighton?

Answers on a postcard to Father Edward Black, St. Josephs, North London.

Apparently John Tyndall forgot to mention to his friends at National Vanguard in the USA that he denied being a Nazi when asked by British voters. For in their latest booklist the advertisement for his "Eleventh Hour" states:

"This new book by National Socialist leader John Tyndall, chairman of the British National Party (etc.)". Come on John - get your act together or you'll never be our President for life!

In some quarters the mere mention of the brutal crushing of the Palestinian Intifada (uprising or literally "shaking off" in Arabic) by the Israeli security forces is considered to be anti-semitic. It is welcome news, therefore, that the Union of Jewish students have just passed a motion by a substantial majority at their Annual Conference condemning "some members" of the Israeli Defence Force

Apology". It was perhaps this inspiring headline that drew our attention to it

The article read as follows:- "In the High Court on 13 December 1989 Mr Alasdair Pepper representing Mr Gulliver-Buckingham told the court that Private Eye had published an article in May 1986 in which it was alleged that Mr Gulliver-Buckingham had been a party to a conspiracy to abduct and murder Mr. Gerry Gable.

Mr Mark Thomson, on behalf of Private Eye, accepted that this seious allegation had no foundation whatsoever and apologised to the plaintiff on behalf of Private Eye for the damage and distress that these allegations had caused to him. The court was also told that Private Eye had agreed to pay Mr Gulliver-Buckingham substantial damages and all of his legal costs".

Where could "Private Eye" have heard such a fable in the first place?

The Sting a supplement to the Cultural magazine called Scorpion has some words of wisdom for certain of our readers:- "It is ironical that Searchlight, in order to survive, depends on the subscriptions of the people whom it abuses. Traditionalists, nationalists and even associates of the European New Right are unhealthily eager to read lurid accounts about themselves in this and kindred publications: the contempt with which the more decent kind of leftist holds such magazines should put them to shame."

A FATE WORSE THAN DEBT?

REVIEW

The one and a half hour documentary called "A fate worse than debt" shown over the Xmas period is unlikely to have won a large audience. Nevertheless the programme highlighted one global problem - debt repayment. A problem that this newspaper has often carried reports on.

The documentary, made by writer Susan George, concentrated on a small number of States in order to show the terrible effects of the debt problem.

One example given was the Phillipines which spent 44% of its National budget last higher and the banks be repayed. Increasingly such States have found that they are forced to concentrate on the latter.

The programme might also have shown how the international banks have been strengthened within the West by the flow of finance in the form of interest payments (some of which is recycled aid from the Western taxpayer).

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

A good chronological explanation of how the debt crises came about followed. Starting with the influx of Arab petro-dollars into bank deposits in the 1970s. Bankers couldn't lend money fast enough to developing countries. The latter were 1% rise in interest rates means an extra $4 billion extra in Latin American payments, for example. Some countries have been brought to the brink of collapse. Is it really suprising that we have a world problem of migration/immigration when such economic inequalities exist between nations?

In 1982 Mexico refused to pay their debt and only an international rescue package prevented their debts being written-off and a run on the banks. Since that time the banks have made provision for potential bad debts (at a large tax relief!) and can take any loss.

THE SOLUTION

Susan George suggested in the programme that since

THREE AND A HALF MILLION HONG KONG CHINESE HOLD BRITISH PASSPORTS. They are worried about their future when Hong Kong is handed over to the brutal Communist regime in China in 1997. Most of them want to leave Hong Kong, but America, Canada and Australia will only take the richest ones. SO WHERE WILL THE REST GO?
THE MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE WHO RULE OVER US THINK THAT THEY SHOULD COME TO BRITAIN. The Tories want them here because they are seen as good Capitalists. The Tory Adam Smith Institute wants to move them all to Scotland. Other right-wing Conservatives want to spread them all over the British Isles.

The documentary, made by writer Susan George, concentrated on a small number of States in order to show the terrible effects of the debt problem.

One example given was the Phillipines which spent 44% of its National budget last year servicing its debt!

The consequence is a halving of living standards, reduced health care (one child dies every hour) and a weakened economic infrastructure unable to allieviate poverty or adequately educate the people. In effect they and many other peoples have been working year in and year out to fill the bankers coffers with no hope of respite since they can just manage to pay the interest on the debts.

POLITICAL INSTABILITY

Interestingly, the programme also highlighted the political instability indebtedness results in. Riots and near civil wars are taking place which potentially threaten the new "democracies" who had promised the people that higher and the banks be repayed. Increasingly such States have found that they are forced to concentrate on the latter.

The programme might also have shown how the international banks have been strengthened within the West by the flow of finance in the form of interest payments (some of which is recycled aid from the Western taxpayer).

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

A good chronological explanation of how the debt crises came about followed. Starting with the influx of Arab petro-dollars into bank deposits in the 1970s. Bankers couldn't lend money fast enough to developing countries. The latter were encouraged to put money into massive, expensive projects, many of which became "White Elephants". Some of these are still costing the earth.

A nuclear power station in Brazil was even built near an earthquake zone! This power station will never come to production but still cost in 1988 $350,000 in interest payments every WEEK!

RISE IN INTEREST RATES

The real crises began when interest rates rose due to the military spending boom in the USA. This led to a rising USA trade deficit to which their Administration responded by raising interest rates - other States then raised their interest rates.

The consequences of even a small rise in interest rates can be devastating for 1% rise in interest rates means an extra $4 billion extra in Latin American payments, for example. Some countries have been brought to the brink of collapse. Is it really suprising that we have a world problem of migration/immigration when such economic inequalities exist between nations?

In 1982 Mexico refused to pay their debt and only an international rescue package prevented their debts being written-off and a run on the banks. Since that time the banks have made provision for potential bad debts (at a large tax relief!) and can take any loss.

THE SOLUTION

Susan George suggested in the programme that since developing nations are stuck in a cycle of poverty and despair as they struggle to meet interest payments, the banks should cancel the debts. She is right. For us this is a matter of principle as we regard interest bearing debt as essentially immoral. As Susan George points out the banks have had their loan back ten times over and have already provided for any future loss. If the debtors were required to put released resources into development, she says, then not only would their internal situation be improved but Western exports would rise.

Ultimately only when the corrupt and immoral banking system is replaced will the problems of debt disappear. Untill then we too say "Scrap the debt - End the hunger!".

Norman Tebbit, a former Tory Party Chairman asked the Foreign Secretary, Douglas Hurd, whether the plan was in line with Conservative pledges at the last four General Elections that there would be "no further large-scale immigration". Mr. Hurd did not answer this question despite calls from Mr Tebbit for him to do so.

When Mr Hurd suggested that there would be a much greater influx if his "selective" plan were not adopted there were shouts of "No" from the Tory benches.

He went on to write;- "The Government's decision has split the party from top to bottom. There is no doubt that in the Cabinet itself, the Home Secretary and the Foreign Secretary led bitterly opposed factions".

OUTSIDE PARLIAMENT

The reaction outside Parliament is proving to be just as negative towards the proposed influx. The attitude of most indigenous people is fairly obvious. There is a sickening hypocrisy in the media inspired uproar over the Repatriation of Vietnamese nationals and their offspring from Hong Kong.

STILL COLONIAL?

The same liberals who otherwise criticise interference by the British State in other circumstances want it to dictate to Hong Kong.

It is generally accepted that the vast majority of Vietnamese are not political refugees but are people moving over the border for economic reasons. The morality of the Repatriation is unarguable.

In all their talking the critics never explain how they would deal with the problem exactly!

Mr Marlow went on to state that: "People feel deep resentment after a generation of mass immigration. They Fears have also been expressed that "this could trigger off anti Chinese feelings".

The new imperialists

General Noreiga is certainly not an acceptable political figure within our own standards but many will have felt ill-ease at the USA invasion of Panama. It ill behoves one sovereign state to impose its will on another.

FAVOURED SON

Untill recently the USA looked upon Noreiga as a favoured son. American President George Bush was in fact Chief of the Central Intelligence Agency when they were employing Noreiga as an agent! They were happy to turn a blind eye to his excesses then and only when other elements of the US establishment crossed swords with Noreiga did he suddenly become "unacceptable".

THE CANAL

His nationalistic attitude towards the control of the canal, due to pass over to Panamanian ownership unnerved Washington and Wall Street.

It is ironic that when the "East" withdraws within its own borders, giving up the interventionist policies of the past and is praised by smug analysts in the US the latter seems intent on replacing them as the biggest imperialist power.

old imperialists

Russian Monarchists have minted a special commemorative coin to celebrate "sixty years of fighting against Communism and Soviet dictatorship". It is the first Russian Monarchist commemorative since the defeat of the Russian White Armies in the 1920s.

One side of the coin shows a portrait of Tsar Nicholas II, who was murdered by the Bolsheviks in 1918, with the following inscriptions in Russian: 1894-1917" (the date of his accession to the Russian Imperial throne and the date of his abdication) and "Only National Assembly Will choose a Worthy Successor".

Make it new!

This issue of "National Front News" will be the last to be published. This is because there is a wide-spread feeling amongst the Cadres and supporters of the Movement that the name of the organisation is actually hindering the popularisation and implementation of our ideals. In fact we think that the name has come to represent ideas and images in the public mind quite at odds with our actual views.

A new decade is now upon us and many feel that a new Movement is necessary to face the challenges and meet the opportunities of this time. We have sought since 1983 to develop our ideas and policies in positive directions. We have also cracked down on ngative elements attracted to our Movement not through a love of our cultural heritage and a desire to see our pecple live in a "Golden Age" where their natural creativy and native common sense will set an example to all nations, but through a

Unlike other such groups operating in this country like "LIFE" and the "Society for the Protection of the Unborn Child", "Rescue" take their message to the streets and adopt a more militant approach. Recent publicity given to the "Rescue a baby" campaign is giving the anti-abortion viewpoint.

The message is loud and clear, "Direct action on the streets to save the unborn child".

Acid drops

The mass media would have it that the deadly down-pour known as "Acid Rain" (highlighted in the last NFN) is a recent development. Nothing could be further from the Truth.

The effects of Acid Rain were first reported by a Scottish chemist, Robert Angus Smith, who actually coined the phrase way back in 1852. The Norwegian playwright Ibsen recognised its effects in 1886 when he blamed pollution in his country on the "Noisome fumes" coming over the North Sea from British industry.

Profit of doom

According to our so-called Masters "capitalism" is good for us in so much as competition between people and /or companies keep prices low and is therefore good for the customer. But in truth the very opposite is the case. By the year 1995 three giant companies could be deciding what foods we buy and how much we pay for them; and how much farmers receive for their efforts. Recent publicity given to the group shows that their methods are very effective. In the United States some 50,000 of their members have been arrested on demonstrations and pickets and in Britain operations in Manchester, Birmingham and London have already achieved success. In Manchester abortion clinics have been picketed and people have blocked entrances, formed human-chains around the building and pulled the plugs out of equipment. As usual the mass media has chosen

Britain has long been regarded as the "Dirty Man of Europe" which produces more sulfur than any other country on the Continent except the U.S.S.R. In 1988 Britain released a massive 3.87 Million tonnes into the atmosphere. This represented a rise of 130,000 tonnes on the previous year

BECOME A FRIEND OF THE MOVEMENT

Don't just sit about and complain about the state of your country. Anyone can be a bar-room politician. Anyone can deplore the influx of Hong Kong immigrants over a pint of lager (or bitter, as it might be!); but it takes someone with special qualities - a lot of guts and an independent mind, to face up to the problems of our Nations..... so don't just sound off, sign up!!!

To become a member of this association it costs a mere £15 per year - in other words we are asking you to give less than 29 pence a week to help save our country. Surely it's the least you can do!

In return you will receive a FOM card, we will keep you updated with important developments and achievements in our work and you will gain the satisfaction of knowing that you are playing an important part in our struggle. Quite apart from allowing us to carry on with, and expand, our work, Friends of the Movement play the important role of acting as the eyes and ears of the Movement in the population.

I would like to become a Friend of the Movement and enclose a cheque/postal order for £15 in favour of Friends of the Movement.

WHERE WE STAND

NATIONAL FREEDOM

Britain is a family of Nations - England, Wales, Scotland, Kernow, Mannin, Eire and Ulster - linked by blood and history. The peoples of all nations have an inalienable right to self - determination and to preserve their native cultures and traditions. We look forward to the day when Eire voluntarily rejoins the future federated British family of nations.

RACIAL SEPARATION

Race is the main determining factor in nationality. Racially mixed societies cannot form one nation and are therefore unstable. No one race is 'superior' to others, but they are all different. Racial integration threatens all races. Humane repatriation is better for us all than endless repression and racial violence.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

The nation is a great family. Every member of our national family has the absolute right to care at the nation's expense when young, sick or old. There must be equal opportunity for all, but unearned privilege for none.

WELL DISTRIBUTED PROPERTY -

The realistic opportunity to own one's own home and place of work is the right of all our people. Direct ownership of the means of production and distribution is essential for individual freedom, for family stability and for the best use of our national resources.

SANITY IN FINANCE

The right to create the credit needed by the economy must belong to the people's government. The banks, which have usurped this right, must be stripped of their unjust gains and power. The National Debt is based on usury and must be repudiated.

RESPECT FOR NATURE

We hold the environment in trust for future generations. Pollution of the land, sea and air, and of the gene pool through radiation, is a betrayal of that trust.

POPULAR RULE

Parliamentary representation is a fraud. Party rule is a cloak for the dictatorship of vested interests and media bosses. Government must be in the hands of the people themselves, through new information technology, and the election of delegates to carry out their wishes. Power must be devolved to the lowest possible level.

THE ARMED PEOPLE

The freedoms given by these principles must be defended through armed neutrality, with well - equiped national defence forces involving the entire adult population. Power, wealth and arms in the hands of the people!

REVOLUTION NOT REFORM

These changes cannot be brought about by tinkering within the System, or by relying on the System's own institutions, such as parliament, schools or the courts. They can only spring from a National Revolution. This revolution must begin in the hearts of individuals, then spread by their example to involve whole communities in revolutionary structures such as alternative councils and schools, neighbourhood patrols and self - help groups. Once we cease to depend on the institutions of the old State, it will be swept aside.

THE THIRD WAY

The growth of these ideas in nation after nation shows that a new force is rising in the world for the 21st century. Leaving behind the sterile hatreds of Capitalism, Nazism and Communism, this Third Way offers a real future for all our peoples. We urge all those who agree with these principles to join with us in the struggle to build the National Front - the Movement of the Future.

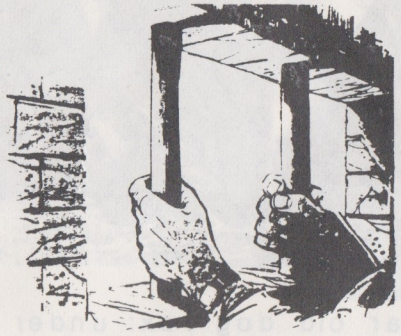
THE LUCKY WINNER

Even Billy Bunter might have had trouble working his way throught this box of delights!

Mrs Elsie Williams of Kent was the lucky winner of the bumper Yuletide hamper raffled to raise funds for the Nationalist Welfare Association. The hamper contained such Christmas goodies as Napoleon brandy, red salmon and Elsenham preserves. Not only did the raffle give pleasure to the lucky winner, it brought a smile to the face of NWA Treasurer Randolph Vann as he banked a tidy profit. Mr Vann commented:

"I would like to thank all those who purchased a ticket and helped to make the raffle such a success. And I know that all the relatives of imprisoned Nationalists who our fund has helped would thank you too".

Proud great grandmother Mrs Elsie Williams was the lucky winner of the NWA hamper. Elsie said "It came as quite a surprise to hear I'd won"



The NWA exists to help Nationalist political prisoners and their families.

Even Billy Bunter might have had trouble working his way throught this box of delights!

POPULAR RULE IS POSSIBLE

ITV's Oracle Teletext service provides the only regular "opinion poll" facility to the public. This gives all owners of television sets, with teletext, the opportunity of voting on questions of public interest. These questions are selected by ORACLE and then presented in simple referendum format of YES or NO. The viewer telephones a number, shown on the screen, which allows his vote to be registered.

REPATRIATION?

For example, a recent question "Should the boat people be repatriated?" got the response: YES 4000 (71.67%), NO 1581 (28.33%). Other polls have shown overwhelming support for the abolition of abortion and massive support for the ambulancemen.

This system shows the way forward, as it opens-up the possibility of Information Technology being used to implement true participatory democracy. The enemies or Truth say that enabling the people to vote regularly on National issues is impracticable and prohibitively expensive. The teletext service shows these arguments to be falacious.

POWER TO THE PEOPLE

The introduction of I.T. into every home of the future, will allow people to vote, via telephone, not only on National issues but on regional and local problems. The implementation of participatory democracy could then be a fact. Through such a system for the first time in British history, the genuine wishes of the people could be expressed.

Those wishing to experience this experiment in democracy should select page 129 ORACLE ITV. Questions appear at the end of the week, results after 5pm Mondays.

'Concern' is a sham

Concern by the old parties of both Left and Right for the environment and Green issues is little more than a sham. Despite claims to be "green" the destruction of the natural world continues.

By the year 2090 the temperature here in southern England on a summer's day could be 26-30°C. or 79-86°F. because of global warming. The polar regions will melt as a result, causing the sea level to rise and flood coastal areas.

Our rivers and waterways are more polluted than ever, with ten per cent. of them unable to support any fish. Not that other creatures fare much better: there has been a dramatic decline in the U.K. bat population in the last 30 years. Plants suffer too, as witnessed by the threat to wetland ferns and mosses.

Alternative energy sources and energy conservation could cut electricity consumption by anything up to 70 per cent. This would reduce power-station emissions that cause acid rain, and dispose of the so-called "need" for hazardous nuclear power.

Yet still the conventional political forces do nothing to reduce the abuse of the planet by Mankind. Like blood-sports, vivisection and factory farming they ignore the majority of Britons who call for action.

For the Birds

A recent survey by the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds claims that due to Government policy 80 out of 100 of the most important Salt Water estuaries are under threat. A further 12 are "at risk".

Marie Louise Rossi Chairwoman of the Bow Group of the Tory Party and Westminster City councillor has attacked "the perversity of anti racism".

Yet this woman does not share the NF's desire to promote the continued arrogant desire to see black and white people conform to her vision of an integrated society. Back to School

The Government hatchetman for Education, Mr Baker, has declared that:-

"History teaching in schools should give prominence to the theme of Britain's evolution as a free and democratic society".

Members of the NF might find it fascinating to hear about the democratic nature of the Race Relatins and Public Order Act as well as the democratic reasons why majority opinion is ignored on questions such as Capital punishment and Immigration. Back to school!

A recent survey by the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds claims that due to Government policy 80 out of 100 of the most important Salt Water estuaries are under threat. A further 12 are "at risk".

DEVELOPMENT?

The survey shows that at least 80 estauries are under threat because of "pollution, land claim, rubbish dumping and disturbance" and that the damage caused by the "ravages of industry and development" was being ignored by the Government.

For most of the year estauries seem devoid of much life on their mud flats but twice a year in the Spring and Autumn, for a few short weeks they can be seen teeming with bird life. These birds use our estauries as vital feeding stations when on migration.

ANTI-RACISM?

Marie Louise Rossi Chairwoman of the Bow Group of the Tory Party and Westminster City councillor has attacked "the perversity of anti racism".

Yet this woman does not share the NF's desire to promote the continued cultural diversity of the world. NFN readers may recall that the Bow Group opposes separate schools for different ethnic groups, despite this being their democratic desire.

Rossi say's " of prime importance is the need to acquire good basic English langauge and literacy skills." Her hostility to anti racism is based on the arrogant desire to see black and white people conform to her vision of an integrated society. In other words she wants not only muslim and other immigrant groups to lose their identity in return for some false' Britishness', but also for our people to become part of some all embracing false consumer culture.

The real racists are those who talk either of anti racism, or of integration through adopting "our" culture. They are all concerned with destroying cultural diversity and imposing their own false values upon us all.

If there is one facet of of modern life that encapsulates both the sick and the undemocratic nature of society, it is the continuation of bloodsports.

The horrific "sport" of ripping apart defenceless animals is centred in the currently legal pursuits of hunting foxes, hares, stags and mink; while badger baiting and dogfighting constitute the illegal part of such barbarism. It is hardly surprising that the majority of UK citizens reject the bloodsports of the few, and with good reason, too!

Information gathered by GALLUP shows a steady increase in the majority opposed to such activities. In December 1972 52% supported the outlawing of foxhunting and by April 1987 this figure had risen to 68%. Over the same period of time the [illegible] of both town and country dwellers against such practices.

It is nothing short of a scandal when the wishes of a clear majority are rejected by the Westminster Parliament. And this anger against hunting is founded on hard fact as well.

the number of lambs taken by foxes, for example, is tiny when compared to the numbers killed by disease, malnutrition and hypothermia. The hunting of foxes is not only pointless and cruel, but is ineffective as a means of "controlling numbers"; not that this is of any comfort to the 12,000 to 13, 000 killed every year!

Similarly empty justifications exist for the hunting of mink, where the green welly thugs claim that it is a pest causing much damage. Yet a Dr Birks of Durham University Zoolgy Dept. has dismissed this as "alarmist" and New Forest Buckhounds is truely awful. Exhausted by the agonising chase the stag is torn open by the hounds or, if 'lucky' it is pulled to the ground but then shot by the hunters. How kind!

And they call this sport? The dreadful assault on innocent animals, just for fun? It is sick, let's ban it: NOW!

It is nothing short of a scandal when the wishes of a clear majority are rejected by the Westminster Parliament. And this anger against hunting is founded on hard fact as well.

The fox does not pose any real threat to farmers, indeed an NOP poll for July 1974 revealed that 70% of them did not regard the animal as a threat to their work or livelihood in any way. Yet a Dr Birks of Durham University Zoolgy Dept. has dismissed this as "alarmist", saying the mink is capable of fitting into the ecology of the UK as a waterside predator.

Harecoursing and stag/deer hunting are arguably the two most barbaric of all these "sports" fraternity claim it dies quickly. The prolonged screams of the hare reveal this 'argument' as a lie.

And they call this sport? The dreadful assault on innocent animals, just for fun? It is sick, let's ban it: NOW!

DISCLAIMER

THE National Directorate of the National Front wishes to make it clear that the Flag and Vanguard are not National Front publications. They do not reflect NF policy or strategy and do not speak for the National Front.

They are produced by a small clique of reactionaries, thieves and drunks, expelled from the NF in 1986. Officials are reminded that both publications and their editors are proscribed. Members of the public are warned that the NF cannot be held responsible for money lost on subscriptions to the Flag and Vanguard when they cease publication.
